

Ahmed Eladl

Associated lecturer of public health and preventive medicine Mansoura University

P. +20 1000 570 570

E. Ahmed.eladl@mans.edu.eg

A. Elmashaia Street, Mansoura, Egypt

D. 3/5/1986

My Education

2018

Master's Degree

Handball sport injuries
determinants and prevention
Mansoura University

2020

Registration of doctoral degree in Handball Sports Nutrition currently in progress

Personal Skills

Language:

Arabic (Mother tongue)

English (Excellent)

French (Fair)

Communication skills:

Presentation skills

Team management

Health education

Medical campaigns

Human progress

Psychiatric analysis

Experience & Positions

International student graduated from Mansoura Manchester Medical Program - Mansoura University in collaboration with Manchester University, UK.

Clinical attachments, experiences, and training at Royal orthopedic hospital Birmingham, queen Elizabeth hospital, Salford royal hospital, and Manchester University Hospital.

Experience in new teaching techniques as :

Self-directed learning skills.

Student-centered education skills.

Problem-based learning skills.

E-learning skills.

Associated lecturer of public health and preventive medicine
Pillars: health promotion, health education, prevention, nutrition, communication, social mobilization, researcher and statistical analysis.

Board member in the COVID-19 pandemic prevention and control committee at Mansoura University in collaboration with the Ministry of health. Pillars of duty include surveillance, Monitoring of health determinants, risks & morbidity with a great experience in preparedness & response to disease outbreaks, pandemics, and other emergencies.

Certified tutor in university leader initiative program in collaboration with UNICEF.

Currently the Head of the Medical Committee of the Egyptian Handball Federation 2021.

President of Handball area in Dakahlia from 2018 till now.

Member of the LOC organizing medical committee, for Men Handball world-cup 2021 as well as a member of the scientific committee responsible for the international medical conference to be held during the championship.